

American Society of Botanical Artists
19th Annual Meeting and Conference
Pittsburgh, 2013

Carnegie Museum of Natural History
www.carnegiemnh.org

Friday, September 27
1:30 pm – 4:00 pm

Join us for a behind-the-scenes of the moth, butterfly and bug collections of the Carnegie Museum of Natural History. This tour includes a special viewing of the paintings by Andrey Avinoff. Best known for his scientific research on butterflies, and also as director of the Museum from 1926 to 1945, he created a body of watercolors butterflies, botanicals as well as the fantastical.

The museum was founded in 1896 by Andrew Carnegie, the Pittsburgh-based industrialist. It holds some 22 million specimens.

