

American Society of Botanical Artists

21st Annual Meeting and Conference
Miami, 2015

Fruits of our Labor: Washes, Textures, Detail Hillary Parker

Friday, October 16
9 am – 4:00 pm
Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden – Classroom A

Inspired by the tropical fruits grown at Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden and throughout South Florida, students engage all of their senses while painting delicious watercolor studies with an intensive focus of mastering those elusive washes to show seamless form as well as layering in dry brush techniques to depict realistic texture and detail.

Supply List

Please bring all of your own watercolor painting supplies
1 full sheet of 300lb HOT press Fabriano Artistic extra white, cut or torn into (4) quarter sheets of 11"x15"ea.
Battery operated table light

Bio:

Hillary Parker is a naturalist and international award winning botanical watercolor artist with paintings exhibited and sold worldwide. With a dual career of teaching and painting for over 25 years, she paints for private and public commissions, juried exhibitions, and presents international workshops, lectures and private art instruction.